BARBOURVILLE, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 22, 1905.

Second Year. Vol. 2. No. 45.

FALSE

Are Statements Sent Out Relative to Existing Conditions Here, Calculated to Injure Knox County's Fair Name.

Neither Court or Grand Jury in Any Danger and no Threats Made so Far as we Can Learn.

There has for some time, at least, been a disposition upon the part of the press of the State to cast a shadow upon the fair name of the mountains and brand every man who claims his residence among the towering hills of our State as a desperado and ready to take a human life upon the slightest provocation. This disposition upon the part of the newspapers has done a great injustice to the good citizenship of the mountains, and not only has it driven capital from our midst, but it has injured the good name of many a man who is as honest and noble hearted as any that tread our soil to-day.

Only this week the Louisville and Cincinnati papers contained incendiary articles purporting to give the news from this place in which it was given out that in view of the fact that there was an effort being made to secure indictments against certain of the newly elected officers of the county, charging them with bribery, that the Circuit Judge and also the foreman of the grand jury were in danger of their lives. Of course those who are here and know the facts, know full well that this whole story is a falsehood of whole cloth and no semblance of truth in it, but that is not what hurts and injures our community. It is the fact that these reports are heeded abroad, and those away from this point accept it as true. We believe that a fair statement of all the facts concerning this week's proceedings would not be amiss.

At the close of our last Saturday it was rumored that certain of our county officials-elect were about to be indicted, but the indictments were not reported. On Monday one of the grand jurors was sick and not able to attend to the duties and another man was substituted in his place. The new man was sworn in late Monday and the grand jury adjourned until Tuesday.

When the grand jury as in the foreman, Woodson, insisted upon the indictments being returned as agreed upon last week, whereupon some objected, especially the juror who had not heard a syllable of evidence against the parties charged, but Woodson, who it is believed is seeking political favors himself, failing to force an indictment, presented the jury before the court for his assistance in whipping the unruly ones into line, whereupon the court, it is claimed, used all the means of his office to coerce the grand jury into returning indictments against some of our county officials-elect for bribery, although some of them state publicly that they were opposed to returning the indictments.

The court threatened them with indictments themselves and the foreman threatened them with fines if they longer refused to bring in the indictments as above stated. It is true that there has been great excitement here, it is not on account of anything done by the grand jury or any of the citizens, but on account of what the court has said and done. The common expression is that "Judge Faulkner is playing to the galleries and thinks himself a little Jerome." Not one of the men indicted on the bribery charge were ever charged with the commission of any crime before, while it is claimed that the judge himself since he has been office made a plea of guilty to indictments in his own court for gambling and paid the fine.

All the persons charged in these indictments will enter their appearance and ask for an immediate trial, and claim to have no fears as to the results.

The people are indignant over the report that the court has caused to be sent out to the effect that either himself or the grand jury was in danger from anybody who would do them bodily harm.

We have attempted to thoroughly investigate the matter and so far as we can learn there is not the slightest grounds for such statements, and it is the consensus of opinion that they were made solely for the purpose of creating sentiment in favor of, and a justification for the conduct of the court and jury.

The foreman of the grand jury appeared in court Tuesday morning and tendered his resignation and gave as his reason for so doing that he feared he was in danger of great bodily harm, whereupon the court declined to accept his resignation, and assured him that if Beckham could not furnish sufficient protection he would call President Roosevelt to his assistance.

This was and is now believed by everyone who heard the incident, to be only a play for newspaper notoriety, as there were no grounds earthly for such conduct.

The true motive of all this sensation was by the merest accident revealed Wednesday when two reputable witnesses appeared before the grand jury and swore that they saw W. E. Faulkner, son of the judge, give to a voter in this county a sum of money to be used in the Hunter-Edwards election.

This was like a thunderbolt from a clear sky. The foreman listened to the court and a whispered conversation was held, after which Woodson returned to the grand jury and an adjournment was taken until afternoon. During the noon hour whispered conversations were held among the Democratic members of the grand jury and it seems that an agreement was reached. When the grand jury met in the afternoon the vote was taken, and each and every Democrat on the jury voted against returning this indictment, when they had on the day preceding voted to return indictments against some seven or eight men on a similar charge with nothing like such proof against them.

When that proof became known upon the streets it was publicly declared that it only confirmed the former opinion of the public that there was really no sincerity in this claim to purify the elections of our county, but was a Democratic scheme to attempt to rob the rightfully elected officials of our county of their offices and give them over to some Goebelized Democrats, and it is now contended to be an impeachment of all their former proceedings.

We do not desire to see young Mr. Faulkner indicted and are glad that the jury refused to return the indictment, but we like to see fair play and detest seeing high officials use their office to shield one and punish another for the same offense.

Mr. Westerfield, who has all along voted against these indictments being returned, also voted against this one, and has throughout maintained his integrity. He is one of the most respected citizens of our county; has been a church member for thirty-five years, and is a class leader and a devout Christian gentleman. He is the juror who was threatened with indictment by the court if he refused to return indictments against the county officials last Tuesday.

CORTELYOU'S

Rule Concerning Postmaster Annoys Congressmen.

Sentiment Growing in House in Favor of Measure Limiting to Eight Years Terms of Presidential Postmasters.

Washington, Dec. 16.—Members of the House of Representatives are growing more disturbed each day over the recent statement that Postmaster General George B. Cortelyou will put into effect a rule by which Presidential postmasters may continue in office so long as they perform satisfactory service. It was announced a day or two ago that within a short time a bill would be introduced in the House limiting the terms of Presidential postmasters to eight years. Since that announcement was made the sentiment in favor of such a bill has become so strong that the author of it, a Representative from Ohio, is now confident of its passage. The difficulty of its passage, if any arises, will come in the Senate, where the members do not have that eager interest in postmaster appointments which attaches to membership in the lower branch.

A case illustrating the disagreeable features which present themselves to members of the House is that of Representative James Kennedy, of Youngstown, Ohio. In his district the terms of several Presidential postmasters will soon expire. Some of the incumbents was appointed by him, but all came over as legacies from his predecessor, Representative Robert W. Taylor. Under the ruling of the Postmaster General's rule comes from Akron, Ohio, Dr. L. S. Elright has been the postmaster for nearly two terms, and his eight years expire in February. W. B. Baldwin, who has the endorsement of the leading business men and politicians of the city, is a candidate for the place. Until Mr. Cortelyou made known his decision there was little thought but that Mr. Baldwin would be appointed. But now if the Postmaster General's rule is to go into effect Mr. Baldwin will be unable to secure the place that the people of Akron want him to have, and Dr. Elright will continue in office.

Despite the fact that the eight years term of Postmaster George L. Holliday, of Pittsburgh, will expire May 1, up to the present there has been nothing said as to the question of a probable successor. In fact, it seems to be taken for granted that since the recent ruling of Mr. Cortelyou, allowing Presidential postmasters to remain in office so long as they perform their duties satisfactorily, Mr. Holliday will be given another term. Representative John Dalzell, of Pittsburgh, when questioned concerning the matter stated that he had heard of no movement against Mr. Holliday's reappointment. It is known that there are no applications on file at the Postoffice Department of those who desire to succeed Mr. Holliday. It is conceded on all sides that he has made a most creditable record in his office and this may in some slight degree contribute to the non-appearance of other candidates against him.

We think that the eight year rule should become a law and believe it would meet with the approval of the mass of the people throughout the United States. Besides it would do away with the third termers and all would understand that when a second appointment was awarded to the incumbent as a reward for good service and he would understand that to be his last.

We hope to see the measure become a law.

Chief W. H. McDONALD.

The accompanying cut represents our Chief of Police, W. H. McDonald, who has held the position of Chief of Police of Barbourville, for the past three years, and during that time has made a faithful and efficient official. He has labored hard to perform faithfully every duty entrusted to him, and we doubt if there is any one who is better fitted or who would give more general satisfaction in that position than he has.

We are not informed as to who the applicants will be for the place the first of the year when the new council goes in and takes up the election of officers, but we feel confident that should they decide to re-elect Mr. McDonald to the position he now holds the action would meet with almost if not entire satisfaction to the citizenship of our town.

Here, hoping he will hold his job.

ARGUMENT IN POWERS CASE

Will Be Heard By Supreme Court On Question of Jurisdiction.

The Supreme Court of the United States last Monday granted leave to the State of Kentucky to file a petition for a writ of mandamus in the case of Charles Powers, and made the rule returnable on January 15. The announcement was made at the same time the motion to dismiss the case or affirm the decision of the Kentucky Court of Appeals would be considered after the hearing on the mandamus proceeding. The order of the court will permit an argument in the case, and the understanding is that the counsel of both sides will be heard. The State asks the court to direct the remanding of the entire case to the Kentucky courts, and the question of jurisdiction will be the only point for consideration.

HOME-COMING WEEK

For Former Kentuckians Fixed for June 13-17 by Commercial Club of Louisville and Plans for Elaborate Entertainment.

The Louisville Commercial Club is to have a "Home Coming" for all Kentuckians next June. The plans, far as matured, contemplate a celebration much more extensive than any of the "Home Coming" weeks ever held in this country. The dates fixed are June 13, 14, 15, 16 and 17.

The first day will be known as "Reception and Welcome Day." Everybody in the State will establish headquarters in the new Armory in Louisville, where registration of visitors will take place. This will be followed by a civic and military parade. Mr. Henry Watterson has been invited to deliver the chief address of welcome, and former Gov. David R. Francis, of Missouri, the response. Among the many others invited to appear on the program are former Senators William Lindsay and John G. Carlisle, of New York City; Associate Justice John M. Harlan, of the United States Supreme Court; former Gov. Thos. T. Crittenden, of Missouri, and former Vice President Adlai E. Stevenson, of Illinois. This list will be enlarged with the names of other Kentuckians, who, in adopted homes, have marked their names high on the roll of fame.

TO HONOR FOSTER AND BOONE.
Thursday, June 14, is to be "Foster Day," in honor of Stephen Collins Foster, the author of "My Old Kentucky Home." The events of this day will include brass bands and vocal concerts, it being planned to mass several bands to render "My Old Kentucky Home," and have a chorus of several thousand children honor Foster's memory.
Friday, June 15, "Daniel Boone Day" will give both host and guest the opportunity of paying tribute to the Kentucky pioneer and reviving the State's earliest history. It is expected that the entire day will be spent in the parks of Louisville. Following the oratory there will be old-fashioned games, in which prizes will be awarded. Other features of the day will include sewing bees, apple parings and corn huskings, the day concluding with the "Old Virginia Reel," danced on a platform, built inside a stockade, to hold a thousand couples. The club is now arranging for the necessary shocks of corn and barrels of apples to be used in the huskings and parings. Special recognition is to be paid on this day to all the kindred of Boone who attend the festivities. A handsome medal will be given the person present who can prove the closest relationship to the great pioneer.

STATE TO GREAT PIONEER.

Arrangements have been made with Col. C. C. Bickel, who has presented the city of Louisville with a statue of Daniel Boone, to have this statue unveiled on Daniel Boone Day. The statue is to be placed in a picturesque spot in Eastern Park.

Saturday, June 16, has been set aside as "Greater Kentucky Day," with barbecues, campfires, etc.

Sunday, June 17, will be given over to the spirit inspired by the song, "Gonna We Meet Again." All the pulpits of the Louisville churches will be filled by ministers of the gospel who are former Kentuckians.

The census of 1900 shows that there are over 600,000 natives of Kentucky now living in other Commonwealths of the United States.

REDUCED RAILROAD RATES.

The club expects to get the railroads of the United States to make a rate of one fare for the round trip for this great event. It also expects to arrange with the railroads to grant thirty and sixty-day extensions on all tickets, which will enable all visitors to leave Louisville on the night of the 17th for any point in Kentucky to stay for a time with their friends. The rate of one cent per mile will probably be in effect for these side trips.

PRIZES FOR FORMER KENTUCKIANS.

The club expects to make head some awards in addition to the Boone prize, to the following: The former Kentuckian who made the greatest distance; the former Kentuckian present who has lived longest outside the State without having returned; the former Kentuckian present who left the State at the tenderest age; the former Kentuckian present who left the State at the most advanced age.

While Louisville will be the host city, all Kentuckians will join in the welcome to its sons and daughters. It is planned to have a Commissioner from every county, appointed by the Governor, to open headquarters in the new Armory, and there receive and register natives of each county.

The Commercial Club hopes that all former Kentuckians who hear of these arrangements will send their names, and the names of any other former Kentuckians they may know, at once. They are requested to address R. E. Hughes, Secretary Commercial Club, Louisville.

To provide the entertainment planned by the Commercial Club, it will be necessary to raise many thousands of dollars in Louisville, but the club has assurances that all the money necessary will be forthcoming.

WHAT NEXT?

What next will be suggested is a question that has been propounded to us more than once in regard to the different improvements we have proposed and urged upon our citizens to take hold of?

We have suggested a number of important improvements that would not be a far better town of ours and at the same time be a source of revenue to the man or firm who has enterprise and public spirit about them to undertake the scheme; but as yet our people seem to hold back and wait for some one else to make the start.

The Water-works system, we believe, could be made profitable and would prove aluxury to every household.

The Steam Laundry would get all the work it could do if properly managed and prove a source of revenue to the one undertaking it, as well as a convenience to the town and surrounding country.

The Natural Gas Plant would be a fine proposition as the gas would cost nothing and almost everything would be profit.

The Canning Factory would benefit every citizen in Knox county and furnish a market for all the surplus products of the farm that could be readily converted into cash. While now it goes to loss, and the man who undertakes this enterprise will find it to be a very profitable one.

The Court-house proposition was voted down but we still have hopes of seeing the necessary relief given there that will give us what we need along that line.

The Public Vault for our cemetery is a new suggestion and the public is thinking seriously of that and the prospects now are that it may be taken up with the opening of spring-time and something done along that line.

The Public Graded School is also being carefully considered, and we believe that something will grow out of it yet.

The improved system of county roads is another matter that we have urged for almost two years with but little progress as yet, but we believe that under the new administration that will soon have charge of the affairs of our county we may expect to see something done along that line that will meet a long felt want. We know that there can be a decided improvement made in our public road system and we are longing to see it done.

Now as to what next, we will say that we are always ready to suggest improvements and assist in carrying out our suggestions if the people will only take hold and give us encouragement, but where there is nothing done in no way we sometimes feel that perhaps these people are like Ephraim of old, and we almost feel sometimes like saying, "Leave them alone, they are joined to their idols," but we still have hope and continue to urge what we feel will be the best for all concerned.

Our suggestion last week to improve our common school system and establish for Barbourville a graded public school in which the high school branches might be taught seems to have met with the hearty approval of our citizens, especially those most interested, as some of the teachers have already expressed to us their approval of the plan.

Our town is abundantly able to have such a school and the expense would not be as heavy upon the patrons as the present plan of supporting the free school, and at the same time the majority of the patrons sending their children to the College to the primary department.

Let our trustees take this matter up and if the Baptist Institute property is for sale let it be secured for the public school building, as it would prove an ideal place and the present school building could readily be disposed of, and with the proper management we could have the best public schools of any town in the mountains of Kentucky.

EDITOR KNOTT, of the Louisville Post, this week belched forth a scathing mass of hot lava and smoke on account of the false reports sent out from this place and pictures Judge Faulkner as the Redeemer that has been sent to save the mountains of Kentucky from eternal perdition.

Personally, we have nothing to say against Judge Faulkner. We have always been his friend and have regarded him as our friend, but if the statements of the best citizens of Knox county can be taken as true, Judge Faulkner has been guilty of the same crime that he is now endeavoring so hard to have men who were his personal friends, and who used his money when he was a candidate in his behalf, convicted for, and worse than that, that they have never been even charged with gambling, while he has been convicted and paid fines in his own court for that crime.

We think that Bro. Knot should study his subject better before he preaches another sermon to the mountain people.

The new train service which has gone into effect between Jellico and Middleboro via Corbin, will prove a great advantage to the people along the route, and is the outgrowth of the recent controversy between the L. & N. and the Cumberland. Thus the Cumberland has done the people of this section of the State some good already, although the road is not yet half completed between the two points it is building.

Let the good work go on and the people will appreciate the benefits derived.

BLUE GRASS FARM FOR SALE.

I will sell privately my farm of 570 acres situated in Clark County, Ky., on the pike half way between Mt. Sterling and Winchester, seven miles from each town. Will sell as a whole or in three tracts. Tract No. 1, of about 250 acres, has modern dwelling of eight rooms, ice, poultry, meat, servant, granary and buggy houses; stock and tobacco barns, corn crib, a good orchard and tenant houses. Also an up-to-date cattle barn for 130 head, containing a silo that holds enough feed for these cattle five months; is well fenced and watered and an ideal country home. Tract No. 2 of 170 acres, has two small houses and tobacco barns, mostly in grass, and is a good farm to make money on. Tract No. 3 of 150 acres, same description as No. 2.

I will gladly give a more complete description, and price it to any one who wants to buy. It must be seen to be appreciated.

A little ad in the ADVOCATE may bring you big results. Try it and be convinced.

TROUBLE.

It is a well known fact that everybody in every kind of business have their troubles, and it is useless to make trouble for yourself and your neighbor by putting off until next week what should be done to-day.

Time is money, and wasted time is money lost, and for this reason it costs us about three times as much as it should to collect our bills. We do not desire to be unreasonable, but we dislike to walk the town over six times a week to collect what we ought to collect in one day. It is our duty to see you and present our bill once and if you fail to pay, then it should be your duty to see us and make settlement if we grant you further time on your bill.

There must be a remedy for this and a rule established so that hereafter all Light Bills not paid by the 10th of each month will be cut out, unless some satisfactory agreement has been made by that time.

As we believe that a Company of this character is badly needed in this county in order to bring the buyer and the seller together.

To the Buyer. If you are in the market to buy any of the property here above described, call and look over our lists and we will endeavor to show you something that will suit you, both in location and in price. We make no charge whatever against the buyer, and only a small listing fee against the Seller to help pay expenses of the advertising, but this we deduct from our commission when property is sold, thus making it practically free both to buyer and seller.

Trusting that we may be of some service to both the buyer and seller, and by so doing merit your good will.

Why Buy McClure's?

McClure's Magazine is bought and read in homes not because it is a magazine, but because it is the magazine. Why?

FIRST—THE PRICE. It costs but one dollar a year less than 10 cents a number, for over thirteen two-column pages of reading matter. This amounts in actual bulk to twenty or twenty-five books costing anywhere from a dollar to two dollars a volume.

SECOND—QUALITY. The reading matter is written by America's leading writers—the best short story writers on timely articles, the best writers of important serials, such as Schurz's Reminiscences or Baker's Railroad articles.

THIRD—TIMELINESS. The reading matter in McClure's is not only good; it is not only entertaining, amusing, instructive and inspiring—it is also about the subjects in which you and all Americans are most interested at the time. No subjects in the next twelve months are going to be so important as the question of railroad rates and relates and the question of life insurance. Both of these questions will be discussed by authorities in an impartial, careful, interesting way.

FOURTH—ITS CHARACTER. McClure's Magazine is not edited for children, but at the same time, there is never a line in it that any young girl might not read. Its advertising pages are as clean as its editorial pages.

McClure's Magazine

in your home is intended to work only for good. Send $1.00 to-day for one year's subscription, or leave an order at your book-store. November and December free with new subscriptions for 1906.

S. S. MCCLURE COMPANY, 47 East 23d Street NEW YORK.

You can earn a good income by taking up the business of securing subscribers for McClure's. It is a clean and self-respecting—a publication any man or woman would like to represent. The pay is 25 cents for each $1.00 subscription, in addition to big cash prizes for the best work. Write to-day for full particulars
